

CODEX PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date: August 2018.

Cryptagio OÜ (the “Company”, “we”, “us” and “our”) has introduced this Privacy Policy (the “Policy”) to provide you with the transparent and comprehensive information concerning our privacy approaches.

Before you consent to the collection and processing of your personal data by the Company, we ask you to read this Policy that is, together with our Terms of Use and Cookies Policy, a legally binding agreement between you and the Company.

This Policy explains how we process personally identifiable information when you use our Website as a Visitor or provide information to us in connection with your use of the Services as a User.

This Policy applies to your use of the Services, scope of which is defined in our Terms of Use.

Personal data categories. The Company may process from you contact and financial information, AML|KYC-related data, cookie identifiers and other similar technologies data. In-depth the list of personal data processed is explained in in a separate section of this Policy.

Purposes. Generally, these data processed for two main connected functions, i.e. website performance and functionality as well as Services provision. By extension, we together with our contractors and partners processes such data for marketing and advertising purposes as well as to comply with legal obligations deriving from AML|KYC regulations.

Rights. While using the Services, you enjoy and can exercise all the rights and freedom deriving from the data protection laws.

Please, pay attention that by accepting this Policy you expressly consent that your personal data may be transferred outside the European Economic Area (the “EEA”), since certain Company’s contractors are based within the jurisdictions that may not have the protections in place for personal data as extensive as those within the EEA. Nevertheless, the Company adapts the security and organizational safeguards to make any personal data transfer compliant with the applicable EEA data protection laws.

Please, read the full information below to familiarize yourself with our Policy in detail.

1. WHAT INFORMATION DOES THE COMPANY PROCESS AND WHY?

As you might already know, personal information includes any information that can be directly associated with a specific person and can be used to identify that person, including the information about your activities within the Services, particularly the information automatically collected).

We do not consider personal data to include information that has been anonymized so that it does not identify you as a specific user.

We collect the following types of personal information in order to provide you with the use of the Services, and to help us personalize and improve your experience.

1.1. Information collected automatically

When you use the Services, we collect information sent to us by your computer, mobile phone or other access device. The information sent to us includes, but is not limited to, the following: data about the pages you access, computer IP address, device ID or unique identifier, device type, geo-location information, computer and connection information, mobile network information, statistics on page views, traffic to and from the sites, referral URL, ad data, and standard web log data and other information. The majority of such data are anonymized and do not enable the Company to identify any specific individual.

The purpose of such processing is simply to improve the Services (including website) performance and customize it in light of your needs and interests.

We may share your personal information in the following manner and for the following purposes:

For Legal Reasons. We may disclose personal information to respond to subpoenas, court orders, or legal process, or to establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims. We may also share such information if we believe it is necessary in order to investigate, prevent, or take action regarding illegal activities, suspected fraud, situations involving potential threats to the physical safety of any person, violations of our Terms of Use, or as otherwise required by law. In certain situations, we may be required to disclose personal data in response to lawful requests by public authorities, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements. Legal requests must meet the following requirements before we will consider complying with them: (i) must be in writing and legally issued by a relevant government entity; (ii) must be as narrowly defined as possible.

The Company may also disclose the Personal Information within the AML/KYC procedures and the applicable laws. Regarding this specific situation, the Company is entitled to engage the third-part KYC providers on the contract basis and in accordance with the data protection regulation. The third-party KYC providers will be engaged in order to:

- collect and verify the information and documentation within the KYC procedures as described herein;
- check the information and documentation with regard to sanction lists and politically exposed person list;
- provide the Company with reports after the information and documentation have been collected, verified and checked.

For Business Transactions. The Company is involved in a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or a portion of its assets, you will be notified via email and/or a prominent notice on our Web site of any change in ownership or uses of your personal information, as well as any choices you may have regarding your personal information.

For Statistical Analysis. The Company may provide non-personal, summary or group statistics about our customers, sales, traffic patterns, and related Web site information to reputable third-party vendors, but these statistics will include no personally identifiable information.

For Legal Compliance. The Company may provide personal information to law-enforcement agencies or similar authorities in order to comply with anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing verification requirements.

For Transaction Flow. The Company may disclose the Personal Information with the third parties involved in the execution of transactions, including but not limited to our banking partners, transactions facilitators and payment providers, as well as providers of live chat software, etc.

Please note that these third parties may be in other countries where the laws on processing personal information may be less stringent than in your country.

If you open the account directly on a third-party website or via a third-party application, any information that you enter on that website or application (and not directly on the Company website/application) will be shared with the owner of the third-party website or application. These sites are governed by their own privacy policies and you are encouraged to review their privacy policies before providing them with personal information. The Company is not responsible for the content or information practices of such third parties.

The Company may use the following services to collect, manage, analyze or otherwise process some of your personal data.

- Google Analytics. Through our Website, we use this service and its reports in order to better understand the website traffic and webpage usage. But be sure: Google Analytics does not identify individual users or associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. Also, we do not allow Google to use or share our analytics data for any purpose besides providing us with analytics information.
- Google Cloud. We use the service for the hosting purposes where we collect and process the data permissible pursuant to the applicable privacy policy which may be accessed here: <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/>. We use this service for the complete security of your data, since Google Cloud services are certified under the PrivacyShield.
- Mailgun. The Company uses Mailgun in order to communicate with you via email. Therefore, while using this service, we collect such personal data of yours, as email addresses and other information related to them. Whereas Mailgun may transfer such information to third parties (when required by law; to its processors etc), you may be sure that Mailgun fully complies with the applicable data protection laws. In any event, you can opt out of our mailing list if you choose the unsubscribe service provided by Mailgun. For further information about the type of personal information Mailgun collects, refer to the Mailgun Privacy Policy.
- Zendesk. We use Zendesk in order to organize the customer service platform on our Website. This enables us to provide you with help center services, specifically to process the requests submitted and manage correspondence with use. Whereas Zendesk may use cookies to evaluate your use of the platform, compile reports on platform activity for platform operators and provide other services related to platform usage and internet usage, and transfer this information to third parties where required by law or if such third parties process the information on Zendesk's behalf, the service fully complies with the applicable data protection laws, as may be extracted from Zendesk Privacy Policy and cookie policy can be found at: <https://www.zendesk.com/company/privacy/> and <https://www.zendesk.com/company/customers-partners/cookie-policy/?cta=cook>

- Remarketing services. We also use one or more third-party remarketing services (including Facebook Ads, Twitter Ads, Google Ads, LinkedIn Ads, Buffer) to advertise on third party websites to previous visitors to our Services. These third-party remarketing service providers use cookies to serve ads based on a past visit to the Services. Any data collected by such third party remarketing service providers will be used in accordance with this Policy and the privacy policy of such third party remarketing services provider.
- AML|KYC providers. In order to comply with the applicable legal obligations, the Company may engage the providers of AML|KYC services. Please, note that such providers are bound by the applicable laws and request your personal data deriving from such laws. Due to the complexity of such verification activity, such providers may additionally engage the processors and/or sub-processors to provide the services and adhere to the laws. Also, such providers may disclose the personal data to third parties (law enforcement agencies etc.) if so required by the law.
- Other external services. The Company may cooperate with our third parties in order to achieve those purposes described in this Policy. Please, be sure that in case we engage any other third party we bear in mind the provisions of the applicable laws, particularly Article 28 of the General Data Protection Regulation. In no event, we will share your data with any counterparty that does not provide the adequate level of personal data protection.

6. YOUR RIGHTS

As to your personal data collected and processed by the Company, you have the following rights:

- to access to your personal data processed by the Company, as specified in the section below as well as to obtain your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format in order to be able to transmit it to the other controller of data;
- to request from the Company to rectify your personal data requiring corrections;
- to request to erase personal data as long as their processing is no longer necessary for why it was actually collected.
