You may also use our Services to purchase and sell digital assets directly from and to us. Our services do not provide users with the ability to trade one form of legal tender for another form of legal tender.

The Company provides you with a platform that matches your trades with open orders from other users of our Services at your direction. Users are not able to predetermine a trade with a particular user or with a particular account. Additionally, an order may be partially filled or may be filled by multiple matching orders.

The Company provides you with wallet services. The Wallet is a secure digital wallet used to store, send, and receive cryptocurrency, like Bitcoin, Ethereum, Litecoin, etc. In fact, cryptocurrency itself is not actually “stored” in a wallet. Instead a private key (secured digital code linked to your wallet) is stored and shows the ownership of linked to it (and hence to the wallet) public keys (a public digital code connected to a certain amount of currency). So, your wallet allows you to send and receive coins, and also acts as a personal ledger of transactions. Private key (private secure digital code linked to your public keys and hence to your wallet) will be safely stored with the highest level of security. The detailed Terms of Wallet Use is available at the Web-Site. Access to the Wallet is available via the User’s Account.
